GERMANS BEATEN IN THREE SUCCESSIVE ATTACKS BY FRENCH Italians Blew Top Off Mountain--German Battle Cruisers Off Lowestoft

GERMAN CRUISERS RAID EAST COAST OF ENGLAND

Port of Lowestoft Shelled-- Enemy Soon Repulsed

Three British Ships Hit, But Not Sunk.

(By Times Special Cable.)

London, April 25, 1.45 p. m.—German battle cruisers appeared off Lowestoft to-day.

Announcement of the appearance of the German warships was made in an official statement.

Local naval forces engaged the raiders, and also British light cruisers. The German warships retreated in twenty minutes.

The German warships opened fire on the coast before departing. Two men, one woman and a child were killed. The material damage apparently was small.

In the engagement two British light cruisers and a destroyer were hit, but none of them was sunk.

The following official announcement was made:

"About at 4.30 o'clock this morning the German battle cruiser squadron, accompanied by light cruisers and destroyers, appeared off Lowestoft. The local naval forces engaged it, and in about twenty minutes it returned to Germany, chased by our light cruisers and destroyers."

"On shore two men, one woman and a child were killed. The material damage seems to have been insignificant, so far as is known at present. Two British light cruisers and a destroyer were hit, but none were sunk."

BLEW SUMMIT OFF MOUNTAIN TO ADVANCE UPON AUSTRIA

Younger Garibaldi's Daring
Scheme Which Won Italy
Control of Cordevole Valley.

(By Times Special Wire.)

New York, April 25.—A special cable from London says:

According to the Milan correspondent of the Chronicle, the younger Garibaldi, now serving as an officer in the Alpine, who originated the idea of capturing the summit of Col di Lago, has won the mountain back for the Italian advance into the Cordevole valley in the Dolomites by tunnelling under it and blowing the whole top off the mountain—an enterprise which the Italian general accomplished in a single night.

The task began on Christmas Day, the despatch says, of boring a gallery 250 feet long through solid rock. The tunnel was driven straight through to men to rush it abreast to the assault after the explosion, and the mine charge exploded of ten tons of black powder, killing all the workmen, while the shaft was closed with a massive shield of steel armor plate to protect the shaft and also permit it to be promptly opened for a charge after the explosion.

The mine was set off at 11.30 Saturday night and more than a thousand men were killed in the explosion, while the position was swiftly rushed by the Italians.

TRAITOR CASEMENT SENT TO LONDON SUNDAY FOR TRIAL

Man Who Has Disgraced
Ireland Will Have His Work in Germany Probed.

(By Times Special Cable.)

London, April 25.—It is announced officially that Sir Roger Casement was brought to London on trial for treason.

Sir Roger Casement, who was arrested in connection with an abortive attempt to land German troops in Ireland, was brought to London on Sunday morning. He was met at Euston by officers from Scotland Yard, and was detained at a secret court, the unrecorded evidence of his proceedings in Germany since the outbreak of the war will be produced in the trial.

Over probably to the British government, only the bare facts in connection with the arrest of Sir Roger Casement and the present situation in Ireland have been made public. It was also officially disclosed that an attempt was made last week to land arms and ammunition in Ireland from a German auxiliary, under the guise of a neutral steamer, to assist the rebels in their uprising.

The auxiliary was a sunk and a number of prisoners, including Sir Roger, were taken on board. The auxiliary was sunk and a number of prisoners, including Sir Roger, were taken on board. The auxiliary was sunk and a number of prisoners, including Sir Roger, were taken on board.

It was indicated that unsettled conditions prevail in Ireland, and that an unsuccessful attempt was made on Sunday to wreck a train near Maryborough, south of Dublin.

Sir Roger, who was leader of the Separatist faction in Ireland, went to Berlin after the outbreak of the war, with the intention, it was believed, to negotiate peace between the German Government and the anti-English party in Ireland.

Immediately upon his return to London this morning of Prentiss Asquith from his Easter outing, Augustine Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland, called upon him.

BRITISH SHIPS CARRY HAVOC TO HUNS ON BELGIAN COAST

Enormous Damage Done to Positions at Zeebrugge, and to the Enemy Batteries.

(By Times Special Cable.)

London, April 25, 1.26 p. m.—An attack on German positions on the Belgian coast by British warships is reported in the Exchange Telegraphs report from Amsterdam. The bombardment, which was as follows:

The despatch says the following message has been received in Amsterdam from Flushing:
"British battleships, accompanied by destroyers and other vessels, yesterday bombarded Zeebrugge and the German positions of Herne, Antwerp and Kortrijk. The bombardment was one of the heaviest since the beginning of the war, and also one of the longest duration. The damage at Zeebrugge is said to have been enormous. The harbors and docks were hit several times and some ships sunk. The British ships threw bombs on German batteries."

WILL AVENGE SON'S DEATH AT THE FRONT

Old G. T. R. Conductor Came
From Barrie to Enlist
With 56th.

WATCH PRESENTED

To Sergt. Prole for Getting Recruits for the Highland Regiment.

A real war veteran and patriot, too, is Ben Gartner, better known as "Old Ben of Barrie," a former conductor on the G. T. R. who enlisted with the 56th Machine Gun Battalion this morning. A fine, large, upstanding man, Ben, and although he is slightly over 60 years old, he has the vigor and strength of a young man. He served a tour through the Canadian campaign, and was wounded twice, once shot in the head, then shot in the leg, which time he fell off a gun carriage and was struck over his left arm, crushing it easily. He proudly displayed three scars to-day, and wants to get at the Hun. Only that young son, Charlie, who died with the first overseas quota from Barrie, was killed in action during the war, and Ben is anxious to avenge his son's death that the Hun did not do.

Ben's son, Harry, is now in France and his son-in-law, Charlie, who was married to his only daughter, Edna, is in the 10th Battalion of Simcoe. Ben joined the 56th because it is expected that this unit will be sent overseas sooner than any other Canadian battalion.

Sergt. D. Prole of the 12th Battalion, a successful recruiting sergeant, was presented with a handsome watch yesterday afternoon by Dr. W. G. Carson, president of the Canadian Church next Sunday morning. Rev.

W. G. Carson is understood to have already reported that strong political influence is at work in Germany to prevent the entry of the Canadian troops.

Labour leaders and Socialists were represented as being particularly anxious to avert a recurrence of diplomatic relations.

The American Legion was invited to have reported that there were strong indications of Germany's willingness to make some concessions.

Mr. Carson, in his speech, said:

GET THE ROPE.

We hope that there is enough of rope in old England to hang Sir Roger Casement, and we also hope that he is not too crazy to hang. Shooting would be too good for him. We may be told that none but a madman would attempt to do what he tried to do, but the scheme was apparently not too crazy. The German Government is lending its assistance to the plot. We may laugh at the idea of such an exploit. But it should not be forgotten that even in the most loyal of countries conspirators are to be found ready to take advantage of just such movements as the one engrossing Casement. If this rascally Irishman and his crew are mad, there is nothing in his madness, since from the war began he has been plotting mischief against Great Britain. He tried to tamper with the loyalty of the Irish prisoners of war in Germany and when they without his bribes and laughter him to secret, they were brutally treated.

This man Casement has been caught red-handed in an attempt to raise a revolution and rebellion in Ireland against King George and the Empire, and we can see nothing in front of the traitor but an ignominious death. This escargo shows Britain the length that the Kaiser is prepared to go in his efforts to break up the Empire. No matter how foolish the project may seem, it is an evidence that the Kaiser would like to see that he could, the whole British Empire.

The question naturally arises, who were to make use of these arms and that ammunition. It is not believed that the Germans were to attempt an invasion of Ireland. They must have been meant for Irishmen to use. It will be the duty of the Irish and the British authorities to see to this outcome. There must be a lot of arms somewhere in Ireland. At the time of the Home Rule agitation, before war was declared, large forces of men, both Protestants and Catholics, were armed in anticipation of open strife. What became of those?

During the last year or so the Sinn Feiners and other rebellious organizations have been causing considerable trouble in Ireland. They must have been meant for Irishmen to use. It will be the duty of the Irish and the British authorities to see to this outcome. There must be a lot of arms somewhere in Ireland. At the time of the Home Rule agitation, before war was declared, large forces of men, both Protestants and Catholics, were armed in anticipation of open strife. What became of those?

BRITAIN'S SHARE IN THE WAR.

We do not know why British troops have been landed in France. We do not know why British troops are not fighting side by side with the French in the defence of Verdun. We are told by some that Gen. Joffre is waiting to begin the great drive until Britain is ready to do her share of the driving, and that he is kept back in consequence of having to wait on them. We are told by others that Britain has landed the British troops to be landed in France for the purpose of shaming the British into action. We are also told that the landing of these troops is probably an effort to support the out-and-out conscriptionists in Britain. The Washington Post, which is extremely hostile to Britain, declared the other day that England might have gained much wider influence through the landing of its troops if it had been bold and honestly done her full duty toward her allies. Her failure to help France in the early days of the war was a cruel blow to the calumns self-sacrifice of England. Words, no words, but no help, promises, explanations, threats, and the like, have failed to move the German. France has been sacrificed to the vanity of its leaders. In the perfidy with which England has so easily sacrificed its own allies lies the secret of its disastrous policy.

This war is merely the prelude of another, in which the line-up will be greatly changed. When Russia and France are beaten, and when England cannot count upon deluding France again, if there should be a third war.

Of course, this is a lot of piffle. France knows that Britain is determined to fight, and that without Britain's help her struggle for liberty would be hopeless. She knows that Britain has done and is doing much that was ever expected of her. But why should we be surprised at what Britain's enemies say when we see our own Topeka "Wall and Empire" exclaiming that "France is now standing alone in the breach." France is not standing alone in the breach. She is standing alone in the breach because of the political and military ascendancy which she has given to Britain. She has already released some 100,000 French troops for service in front of Verdun, and is keeping the Germans busy over a front of some nets tons of grain, 14,000,000. Some figures for our island seas.

With Halifax, Winnipeg, Calgary and other places falling into line in the daylight saving movement, we see why Hamilton should lag behind. An extra hour of sunlight or light in the evening would be a big boon to the thousands of men working in our factories.

The Easter vestry meetings in this city last evening were all able to report a prosperous year, and a bright outlook despite the war. An illuminating feature was the reports of the number of members who had enlisted. It makes an honor roll of which the Anglican Church in Hamilton may well be proud.

It is becoming increasingly recognized that charity giving is a profession requiring special study and training and the possession of a deep knowledge of and insight into human nature, as well as a kindly and sympathetic disposition, says J. K. Kelcey, superintendent of neglected and dependent children. There is reason in this.

A report from the laboratory of the Royal Revenue Department shows that of 133 samples of butter inspected by the department, 123 samples were genuine, 4 adulterated, and 12 slightly below standard requirements. Of ten samples shown in the Hamilton City market all were genuine, in one water being slightly in excess of the standard. This is an excellent showing.

There is a great deal to commend in the idea of a gift from the United States to the Dominion of Canada that shall become a part of the new Capital which the latter country is now building at Ottawa, says the Boston Christian Science Monitor. Something beautiful in the way of stained glass windows, and the like, can be easily obtained across the border, and to emphasize the satisfaction the Republic feels in the fact that, for more than one hundred years, uninterrupted peace has prevailed along the 4,000 miles of international frontier, with every prospect of permanent endurance, would doubtless meet with the approval of the people on the southern, and be acceptable to the people on the northern side of the line.

CASEMENT, IRISH TRAITOR, CAUGHT AT DIRTY WORK

German Auxiliary Sunk Off Ireland, Trying to Land Guns

And Among Prisoners Made Was the Ex-British Consul.

London, April 24.—An attempt to stir up a "revolution" in Ireland was nipped in the bud when a German auxiliary cruiser, armed by a strong force of German sailors and loaded with vast stores of rifles and ammunition, was sunk off the coast of Ireland by British patrol craft.

Sir Roger Casement, one of the leaders in the Irish Home Rule struggle, who has been in Germany since the early part of the war, was arrested, an Admiralty bulletin to-night stated, "while attempting to land arms in Ireland." A number of other prisoners were taken.

From the British chief bulletin issued late to-night by the Admiralty, it is not clear whether the German auxiliary cruiser, which apparently had to land troops and arms and ammunition or whether she was sunk off the coast before she could approach the shore.

The news of the arrest of Sir Roger Casement—only, according to his wife, he had to land in Germany, the British Government has set a price of $25,000—the greatest tension throughout England.

THE OFFICIAL REPORT.

The Admiralty statement said: "During the period between the afternoon of April 26 and the afternoon of April 21 an attempt to land arms and munitions of war was made by a vessel under the guise of a neutral merchant ship, which is really a German auxiliary in conjunction with Sir Roger Casement."

The auxiliary sank and a number of prisoners were made, amongst whom was Sir Roger Casement."

The German cruiser was marked by reports and rumors of all kinds heralding a concerted uprising in Ireland, but they have been generally discredited, and the German has been published concerning them.

Late to-night a report widely circulated in England was to the effect that the German cruiser had been in Dublin, but nothing authentic could be learned.

An official circle is waiting out a similar comment upon the news of the sinking of the German auxiliary cruiser off Ireland's coast—probably the northern shore—that on April 14 the German Foreign Ministry's New Agency of Berlin sent out a statement, that political

A few nights ago the young people of Trebizond were still in front again. MacGregor, of Waterdown, said he had a fine address on the war. He put fire and sword to the town, and the British occupied the chair.

Several songs and recitations were given. Tea was served. A stockshow was held. The interest was shown in the soldiers.

STRABANE

On the evening of the 18th the Red Cross received a telegram from Captain MacGregor, of Waterdown, reporting that fighting in the streets had taken place at several points on the coast of Trebizond. The British forces have taken charge in various places, suppressing several Irish papers.

Once the nervous system gets run down nothing seems to tend to make it worse. You worry over your condition, are unable to get the required rest and sleep, noises excite and irritate you and the future is most uncertain.

The nervous system does not get the proper nourishment from the food you eat, so you must take a nerve food to help the run-down condition.

You may find that your experience coincides with the writer of this article, who writes: "I used to put Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to the test."

You will make no mistake in assuming this food care, for acting as it does hand in hand with Nature, it is bound to do its work.

APRIL CROP BULLETIN

Fall Wheat Promising—
Good Apple Outlook.

Stock Wintered Well—
Labor Very Scarce.

The following information regarding agricultural conditions in this Province is contained in a bulletin prepared by the Ontario Department of Agriculture, based upon information furnished by a large staff of correspondents under the name of April Crop.

Fall Wheat.—Fall wheat so far gives excellent promise. The top is now as heavy as much of the crop in the late state of the field ground, but the fields were well protected by snow during the winter, and now have a healthy and vigorous appearance. Fall wheat has suffered little injury from spring "heaving," and there are very few complaints of injury to the crop.

Chesnuts.—This crop, like fall wheat, has come through the winter in good shape, except on very low places where the snow did not stay long enough but little injury from heaving, and at present the promise is for one of the best crops in recent years.

Alfalfa.—Alfalfa is also promising well.

Orchards and Small Fruits.—

The greatest damage to orchard trees,

the greatest danger to orchard trees, comes from mice and rabbits driven to the orchard by the lack of food.

In instances grape vines and raspberry canes have been frozen back more or less owing to tender growth.

Small fruits are about normal.

Apples.—The outlook for all classes of fruit is favorable, apple buds giving better promise than for buds last year.

Horses.—The demand for horses notwithstanding war conditions, has not been encouraging. The animals are not being well cared for, and although many have suffered from a mild form of distemper.

Cattle.—On the whole cattle have not suffered from serious disease but have complained of dairy cattle being rather thin in flesh over the winter, and the demand for tender grazing pastures during the rich taurines of the midsummer and fall of last year.

Beef cattle are not plentiful and are not as good as prices of stock have been high.

Sheep.—Sheep have wintered well, and lambs are said to be coming on to lamb.

Swine.—A correspondent describes the hog as the farm "mortgage pig."

For pigs to fatten up stock prices have also risen, but are up to the average in quality, although there are complaints of the nature of dairy type.

Calves are better cared for than formerly.

Sheep.—Sheep have wintered well, and lambs are said to be coming on to lamb.

Fodder supplies.—Owing to there being a good supply of fodder corn and straw at hand, and also a good quantity of grain, there is great freedom for other fodders, hay being held out well, although hay has been fed more sparingly than usual.

Livestock prices.—Live stock are easier to sell than usual.

REJECTED MEN

Recruiting League Favors Special Buttons for Them.

The Publicity Committee of the Hamilton Recruiting League, at its regular meeting last night, decided to recommend to the general executive that buttons for rejected men should be distributed to the military authorities. Many well intentioned men are forced to bear much odium because of the fact that they are in many cases physically健全 but some physical defect which debars them from service. Recruiting agencies came in for some trenchant criticism, and some of them, at least, were quite undignified.

It was felt, too, that better results could be obtained if men actually took part in the matter of holding Sunday night recruiting meetings. Much overlapping has ensued because of the fact that there are so many different places where on at many different theatres at the same time.

Thousands of New Spring Suits and Overcoats.

Men's and young men's ready to wear, to suit all needs, are to be taken at the corner of King and Main streets, during Sunday night recruiting meetings. Much overlapping has ensued because of the fact that there are so many different places where on at many different theatres at the same time.
